PEPPERDINE SAND VOLLEYBALL NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

For the second time in three seasons, the Pepperdine sand volleyball team raised the AVCA Collegiate Sand Volleyball National Championship trophy. The Waves defeated Florida State 3-2, relying on Becca Strehlow and Lara Dykstra to clinch the dual in the final match of the afternoon. A celebratory dip in the Gulf of Mexico followed, similar to the post match festivities back in 2012, when Pepperdine won the inaugural national crown.

We thank and congratulate three deans at Pepperdine University as they leave their current role. Interim deans have been appointed and a national search is taking place to identify all three successors.

Rick Marrs, dean of Seaver College, has been named the new provost of Pepperdine University. The appointment is effective August 1, 2014, upon the retirement of Darryl Tippens, who has served as Pepperdine's chief academic officer since 2001. In his new role, Marrs will oversee the academic development and integrity of Pepperdine University and provide leadership to its five schools and colleges. He will hold primary responsibility for directing the University's academic programs, encouraging effective faculty scholarship and teaching, student learning, strategic planning, and a broad range of academic initiatives.

Margaret Weber has served as dean of the Graduate School of Education and Psychology since 2001. Throughout her years in leadership, Margaret has led an outstanding and diverse faculty to strengthen and shape the GSEP mission and distinguish the school among its peers in higher education. She has stabilized enrollment at the school, increased funding through foundations and grants, overseen growth in psychology programs, developed blended learning platforms, and successfully steered the teacher education programs during a time of tremendous change in the industry.

Linda A. Livingstone has served for more than 12 years as dean of the Graziadio School of Business and Management. She has committed herself to the growth and development of students, faculty, and programs, while helping to build Pepperdine's reputation as one of the leading business schools in the world. Throughout her tenure, Linda has skillfully guided the business school along its quest to advance responsible business practices and develop values-centered leaders. Linda has accepted the position of dean at the George Washington University School of Business in Washington, D.C., and will assume her new duties on August 1.
