Join us for an exciting plenary session in Firestone Fieldhouse featuring special guest speakers Brian Zahnd and Christine Caine, as well as a special interview with Ned Colletti, former general manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Worship led by Randy Gill. See page 8 for more information.
Not long before I became president a man named Robert Donovan came to my office unannounced and told me that he and his wife were the artists who created the Stauffer Chapel stained-glass masterpiece. He and Bette had returned to campus in the twilight years of their lives together to sign their work and to be remembered.

He told me of the process of fitting more than 125 different shapes and colors together, and of the theme they selected for our chapel, “The Tree of Life,” with an open Bible featured in the center of the window around which the stained glass elements swirl and flow. They wanted only to sign their work and we, of course, granted their request. To this day, their handiwork calls me to worship whenever I sit in one of the pews either alone or with other worshippers.

Allow me to invite you to join us May 1–4, 2018, to take a journey into the Word of God through the event we now call Harbor. When you arrive, I urge you to take a deep breath and consider the marvelous mystery of color and light of the stained glass in our chapel by the sea.

As a mosaic of Christians from around the world assemble, Pepperdine will sign its work with song, prayer, fellowship, and study. Ours is a labor of love for you and for the Lord’s church. As with the stained glass in our chapel, God’s Word and Jesus Christ will be central to all that transpires, and his peace, confidence, and warmth will be enabled by the Holy Spirit that comforts us and calms the waters of this tumultuous world—not unlike a welcome harbor in our seaward journey.

Pepperdine University wants nothing more than to be your port and respite during this week together. On our final night, we will sing together “The Lord Bless You and Keep You.” May that benediction sign our work for this year and may God, Jesus Christ, and the Holy Spirit illuminate your path and service until we meet again.

Indeed, may the Lord bless you and keep you in all ways and always.

MESSAGE FROM
Mike Cope

I know you were wondering, so here’s what Jimmy Buffett has to say about the Holy Spirit:

Vampires, Mummies, and the Holy Ghost,
These are the things that terrify me the most
No aliens, psychopaths, or MTV hosts
Scare me like vampires, mummies, and the Holy Ghost!

I heard very little about the Holy Spirit or the Trinity growing up. Like Alexander Campbell himself, many of us were afraid that a focus on the Spirit would lead to emotional excesses.

However, the New Testament is full of references to the ministry of the Spirit. (The Greek word “pneuma” appears over 350 times!) This Spirit is the Paraclete whom Jesus promised when he said it was better for us that he leave following his resurrection. The Spirit is the moving force behind the witnessing of the early church in Acts. And the Holy Spirit is the power behind the transformation that Paul expects of those who have been baptized into Jesus.

God’s Spirit is, in the images of scripture itself, the wind that blows new life into God’s people, the river that flows from the relationship of the Trinity, and the fire that empowers and emboldens Christ-followers. We are both individually and collectively “the temple of the Holy Spirit.”

It’s going to be quite an adventure—thinking and praying through the theme “The Spirit-Filled People of God.” Following a Prayer School led by Brian Zahnd, we will open the theme on May 1 with Rick Atchley speaking about his experience of walking with the Spirit and close on May 4 with Dan Rodriguez challenging us to be open to the fresh leading of God’s Spirit in mission.

This beautiful campus will be waiting for you. And the week will be a harbor for your spirit. Trust me, since 1986 it has been just that for me: a place to find safety and shelter, and also a place to refuel for launching back out.

The Boone Center for the Family at Pepperdine is a training and resource center that promotes healthy relationship skills for lives of purpose, service, and leadership. Focusing on the relational and spiritual development of young adults and married couples, the Boone Center offers specialized education and programming to young adults, professionals, and communities of faith to strengthen their own relationships and impact the lives of those they serve.

WEDNESDAY, 8:30–9:15 AM

Connie Horton, PhD, is the vice president for student affairs at Pepperdine University. As a psychologist whose previous roles include university counseling director and psychology professor, Horton enjoys teaching church classes, retreats, and workshops for Conejo and beyond on subjects of mental health, parenting, marriage, and women's issues. She and her husband of 31 years attend the Conejo Valley of Church of Christ.

MENTAL HEALTH CONCERNS: THE CHURCH’S RESPONSE

Christians are not exempt from mental health concerns, yet many ministers and church communities are unsure how to think and speak about these issues. They also feel unsure about how to best minister to those who are struggling. This session will provide a framework to help understand psychological concepts from a Christian worldview and suggest practical tips for ministry.

WEDNESDAY, 2–4 PM | FEATURED SPEAKER

Kara Powell, PhD, is the executive director of the Fuller Youth Institute (FYI) and a faculty member at Fuller Theological Seminary. Named by Christianity Today as one of “50 Women to Watch,” Powell serves as a youth and family strategist for Orange and also speaks regularly at parenting and leadership conferences. Powell is the author or co-author of a number of books including Growing Young, The Sticky Faith Guide for Your Family, Sticky Faith Curriculum, Can I Ask That?, Essential Leadership, Deep Ministry in a Shallow World, and the Good Sex Youth Ministry Curriculum.

GROWING YOUNG: HELPING TEENAGERS AND YOUNG ADULTS DISCOVER AND LOVE YOUR CHURCH

In the midst of the discouraging reports about the aging and decline of churches today, how can you help teenagers and young adults discover and embrace your church? Through a landmark investigation of more than 250 diverse congregations loving and serving teenagers and young adults, the Fuller Youth Institute uncovered the core commitments that are key to reaching and retaining young people. This seminar explores those findings as well as stories of real-life churches that are thriving. As a church leader, you’ll leave with a host of doable ideas to help your church change young people—and help young people change your church.

THURSDAY, 8:30–9:15 AM

Kelly Maxwell Haer, PhD, is the director of the Relationship IQ program at the Boone Center for the Family. She received her doctorate in family therapy from Saint Louis University, a master’s degree in counseling from Covenant Theological Seminary, and a bachelor’s degree from Furman University. She has a wealth of experience working with young adults in a variety of contexts including counseling sessions, undergraduate and graduate classrooms, and the church community.

HELPING YOUNG ADULTS CONNECT WITH FAMILY AS ADULT CHILDREN

Young adulthood is a time for significant transitions—especially in the parent-child relationship. Help young adults to reflect on their families of origin and take ownership and responsibility to strengthen healthy relationships with their families. Specifically, leaders will learn to help young adults discover how childhood memories have shaped them, develop new insights about their parents, consider the impact of birth order on their own development, understand family dynamics, communicate with their parents, and form their own families when away from home.

THURSDAY, 9:45–10:30 AM

Susan Giboney is a recently retired professor of education at Pepperdine University. She has a master’s degree in child and family studies and is a certified family life educator. She enjoys teaching premarital couples and college students and teaches in a women’s prison. She also serves on four boards including the advisory board of the Boone Center for the Family.

Carrie Wall, PhD, has her doctorate in education and currently serves as the program director for the teacher preparation program at Pepperdine. She thoroughly enjoys working with college students and teacher candidates.

Jessica Wall will graduate in the spring of 2018 with a degree in English and a single subject teaching credential in English and plans to teach high school English. When she’s not in the classroom teaching students how to read and write, she’s the one doing the reading and writing and aspires to publish her books someday.

REACHING ACROSS THE GENERATIONAL AISLE: THREE GENERATIONS REFLECT ON FAMILY AND FAITH

A grandmother, mother, and granddaughter reflect on their generational experiences working with young adults in a variety of contexts including counseling sessions, undergraduate and graduate classrooms, and the church community.

THURSDAY, 11–11:45 AM

Ben Houltberg, PhD, is an associate professor in the Department of Marriage and Family at Fuller Theological Seminary and conducts research through the Thrive Center for Human Development. Houltberg’s research highlights the importance of healthy identity development within high achieving contexts that leads to youth thriving. He is a licensed marriage and family therapist and is widely published in the area of parenting as it relates to the emotional health of children.

PURPOSE-ENHANCING PARENTING: EMPOWERING CHILDREN TO THRIVE UNDER PRESSURE

Parents may differ in their views of success and techniques to motivate children, but all parents desire for their children to be successful. Parents can... have a difficult time knowing when to push their children without creating major emotional disruption and tension in the relationship, and performance under stressful circumstances is more likely for children as they move into adolescence. So how do parents help their children strive for excellence in healthy ways? How does our Christian faith inform the ways we approach performance? This talk will highlight important developmental insights about how children deal with stress and provide many practical tips for parents and church leaders.

THURSDAY 2–4 PM | FEATURED SPEAKER

Les Parrott, PhD, is a psychologist and #1 New York Times best-selling author. He and his wife, Dr. Leslie Parrott, are co-founders of the game-changing SYMBIS Assessment. Parrott’s books have sold more than 3 million copies in more than two dozen languages and include the award-winning Saving Your Marriage Before It Starts. Parrott has been featured in USA Today and the New York Times. He has appeared on CNN, FOX News, Good Morning America, The Today Show, The View, and the Oprah Winfrey Show.

SYMBIS ASSESSMENT: A GAME CHANGER FOR MARRIAGE MINISTRY

You want the very best for the couples in your care and you want a system that makes it personal, profound, and easy. Say hello to the SYMBIS+ Assessment. Helping couples—whether engaged or married for decades—just got easier and more effective. Learn the ins and outs of this revolutionary tool from its creator—an award-winning author of Saving Your Marriage Before It Starts Dr. Les Parrott. Grounded in research and infused with biblical wisdom and practical applications, SYMBIS+ guarantees edge-of-your-seat engagement with couples, in both one-on-one or group formats. You will leave this session with the opportunity to be fully trained and certified to use SYMBIS+ starting immediately.

FRIDAY, 8:30–9:15 AM

Ed Gray, PhD, has been professor of counseling at Harding University since 1993 and, as a licensed therapist, has counseled individuals and couples for more than 35 years. He is the author of several “12 Conversations” programs including marriage mentoring and later-adult life issues, which help individuals utilize the power of stories to support one another as they face various transitions in their lives.

NAVIGATING SENIOR JOURNEYS THROUGH THE POWER OF STORIES: EMPTY NESTING, CAREGIVING, AND GRIEF

The church has a tremendous opportunity to shift its focus from “ministering to seniors” to “equipping seniors” for meaningful outreach and service. Moving beyond entertainment activities and luncheons, seniors have talents to be tapped as they serve one another and others. This workshop focuses on empowering seniors to serve as they move through transitions and challenges in finishing a life well-lived. This session will provide new and practical ways to engage seniors. Seniors and their families will be blessed through conversations including topics such as health, family, friendships, life purpose, lifelong learning, caregiving, grief, and many others.

FRIDAY, 9:45–10:30 AM

Sharon Hargrave, LMFT, is the executive director of the Boone Center for the Family at Pepperdine University. She is a licensed marriage and family therapist in both California and Texas and is the founder of MarriageStrong at Fuller Theological Seminary in Pasadena, California. Hargrave and her husband, Terry, speak nationally and internationally on issues pertaining to couples in ministry, marriage, intergenerational relationships, parenting, and the Restoration Therapy model. She is the author of the MarriageStrong and RelateStrong curriculum and co-author of 5 Days to a New Self with her husband.

FEELING SAFE IN AN UNSAFE WORLD

Statistics tell us anxiety and depression are on the rise. The daily news of shootings, hurricanes, earthquakes, and human suffering reminds us of our own lack of control over our future and the future of the ones we love. As Christians, how do we think about safety and security, not only for ourselves, but for those we lead and serve?

FRIDAY, 11–11:45 AM

Rev. Chris Adams, PhD, is currently serving as the executive director of the Azusa Pacific University Center for Vocational Ministry. Adams is a consultant to a number of denominations and seminaries in the areas of clergy candidate assessment, clergy health, and pastoral leadership formation. He is currently participating as a consultant and researcher with the Duke Clergy Health Initiative, Profiles in Ministry Project for the Association of Theological Schools, and the Flourishing In Ministry project at the University of Notre Dame. Adams teaches and speaks at seminaries, pastors retreats, and conferences.

FLOURISHING IN MINISTRY

The “Flourishing in Ministry” study is a Lilly-funded research project focused on the well-being of clergy and their families. This seminar will examine what motivates pastors to be engaged in ministry and what disrupts them from experiencing well-being in their work. The research explores how clergy, often working with lean resources, can give so much to others while also experiencing a sense of fulfillment and growth in their daily work lives. The seminar will focus on factors that lead to well-being among clergy and the types of relationships all pastors need in order to flourish in ministry.

FRIDAY, 2–4 PM | FEATURED SPEAKERS

Greg Smalley, PhD, serves as the vice president of marriage and family formation at Focus on the Family. In this role, he oversees initiatives that prepare individuals for marriage, strengthen and nurture existing marriages, and help couples in marital crises. He is the author of 17 books including Fight Your Way to a Better Marriage, The DNA of Relationships, and The DNA of Parent and Teen Relationships.

Erin Smalley is a marriage strategic spokesperson at Focus on the Family and develops content for the marriage department. Mrs. Smalley is the author of Grown Up Girlfriends and The Wholehearted Wife, and co-author of Crazy Little Thing Called Marriage with her husband, Greg. Prior to joining Focus on the Family, the Smalleys worked for the Center for Relationship Enrichment at John Brown University. Together they have led marriage seminars around the world and trained pastors, professionals, and lay leaders on how to effectively work with married and engaged couples.

CRAZY LITTLE THING CALLED MARRIAGE

A great marriage doesn’t happen by accident. We need to invest in our spouse and relationship every day, but this can be challenging as ministry couples with full and busy lives. Thus, we will focus on simple and practical ways to build a marriage that both can enjoy—even in the midst of busyness.

Christine Caine is an Australian-born, Greek-blooded, lover of Jesus; activist; author; and international speaker. Her primary passion is to make Jesus’ last command her first priority by giving her all to see the lost saved and to build the local church—globally. Caine also has a passion for justice and together with her husband founded the anti-human trafficking organization, The A21 Campaign. In 2015 they also founded Propel Women, an organization designed to celebrate every woman’s passion, purpose, and potential. Powered by hot, extra-dry, skinny cappuccinos, Caine is a lover of words who speaks too fast, talks too much, and also writes them down. Her most recent book is, Unashamed: Drop the Baggage, Pick Up Your Freedom, Fulfill Your Destiny.

Brian Zahnd is the founder and lead minister of Word of Life Church, a non-denominational Christian congregation in Saint Joseph, Missouri, which he founded with his wife, Peri, in 1981. Zahnd is also the author of several books including Sinners in the Hands of a Loving God, Water to Wine, A Farewell To Mars, Beauty Will Save the World, and Unconditional?: The Call of Jesus to Radical Forgiveness.

Ned Colletti served for nine seasons as general manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers, making him the fifth-longest tenured GM in the National League. In this capacity, he was responsible for overseeing the team’s baseball operations including all scouting, player personnel, and player development. Colletti was responsible for acquiring the game’s top talent including Clayton Kershaw, Andre Ethier, and Yasiel Puig.

Today, Colletti is a regular sports commentator on SportsNet LA and KLAC AM 570. In 2016 he was appointed executive in residence for the sports administration major at Seaver College. His recent book, The Big Chair, provides a detailed account of his life journey and career, guiding one of professional sports’ most storied franchises through its most tumultuous period. During Harbor, Colletti, a man of deep faith, will share his spiritual journey and its role in his life and career.

Christians Make the Best Atheists

The early Christians were known as atheists because they had renounced all gods except Jesus. Unlike our first century predecessors, we aren’t surrounded by temples to gods like Zeus, Aphrodite, or Athena, but these deities still vie for our attention with the seductive powers of control, sex, and nationalism. His class led by Jonathan Storment and Luke Norsworthy will focus on how we can be more “atheistic” towards all the other gods around us.

The Pepperdine University Bible Lectures were established by George Pepperdine and W. B. West in January 1943. They were modeled after similar programs at ACU, Lipscomb, and Harding universities.

Throughout the years of the 1940s, this significant annual forum grew in popularity, but the early 1950s saw a decline in attendance, and no program was scheduled for 1957.

The Bible Lectures took on new life with the arrival of M. Norvel Young and J. P. Sanders in the fall of 1957. By 1961, the keynote lecture program had to be moved to the Shrine Auditorium to accommodate the large numbers of people who wanted to attend. In the following years, the huge Los Angeles Sports Arena became the scene for the largest evening lectures.

When Pepperdine moved to its new campus in Malibu in 1972, there was a renewal of interest in the Bible Lectures. Since that time, the lectures have grown in interest and popularity every year.

As Pepperdine University moves forward into the future, it is fully committed to pursuing the very highest academic standards within a context which celebrates and extends the spiritual and ethical ideals of the Christian faith. The Office of Church Relations is persuaded that 25 years from now, when Pepperdine celebrates a century of Bible Lectures, this annual series will continue to be a stimulating forum for the renewal and restoration of New Testament Christianity.

The Traditional Singing of “The Lord Bless You and Keep You” on Closing Night | May 6, 2011

Firestone Fieldhouse | April 27, 1993

N.T. Wright in Firestone Fieldhouse on Opening Night | May 3, 2016
In 2017 Pepperdine presented a special memorial to the sister of Tom Allen—"nuestro querido colaborador en el evangelio"—in gratitude for his many years of leadership for the Spanish program. For Harbor 2018, we will incorporate the classes in Spanish into our regular Friday schedule.

“Le pido que, por medio del Espíritu y con el poder que procede de sus gloriosas riquezas, los fortalezca a ustedes en lo íntimo de su ser, 17 para que por fe Cristo habite en sus corazones.” (Efesios 3:16-17)

All Spanish classes will be streamed live at the International Bible Institute of Texas website: TEXASBIBLE.ORG
WELCOME HOME TO PEPPERDINE AND HARBOR 2018!

Join us for fellowship and sweet treats with Pepperdine alumni for a very special dessert reception following the keynote speaker.

Wednesday, May 2

8–10 PM (Immediately following the keynote speaker)

Jones Trophy Room, Heritage Hall
(Adjacent to Firestone Fieldhouse)

Registration at pepperdine.edu/biblelectures

Hosted by Seaver College and George Pepperdine College Alumni Relations

A PLACE FOR YOU

At Pepperdine, students learn at the intersection of faith and reason and are strengthened for lives of purpose, service, and leadership. Be part of an extraordinary community that nurtures the heart, soul, and mind by integrating cutting-edge curriculum with service to the community, opportunities for worship, and meaningful fellowship.

The Associated Women for Pepperdine (AWP) was founded in 1958 by Helen M. Young to support George Pepperdine College at its original Los Angeles campus. In the 60 years since its founding, AWP has expanded from a women’s organization seeking to support specific projects at the college to a leading “co-ed” fundraising organization for Church of Christ scholarships at Pepperdine.

Now, with a growing endowment exceeding $4 million, the core AWP mission remains: help students receive a world-class education and “help them build a foundation of Christian character and faith which will survive the storms of life,” as founder George Pepperdine desired. This year, we are celebrating “Ribbons of Memories”—the people like you who have brought AWP this far and continue to motivate us to do the work that we do.

During Harbor, please join us at our 60th-anniversary reception and stop by Payson library to peruse the AWP memorabilia on display. Thank you for faithfully supporting our students over the years!

"The Pepperdine Bible Lectures are where we come together as a family. What my anniversary gives to my marriage, the Pepperdine Bible Lectures have become for our fellowship. It’s not just about the renewal of love; it’s also the renewal of God’s vision."

Lord, I am open to the Holy Spirit. Come to me, dwell in me, speak to me so I may become more like Christ. Lord, give me the courage to be open. Lord, I am open to the Holy Spirit. Come Holy Spirit.

AMEN.
