3-15-1981

President's Page

David J. Agatstein

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.pepperdine.edu/naalj

Part of the Administrative Law Commons, and the Judges Commons

Recommended Citation

available at https://digitalcommons.pepperdine.edu/naalj/vol1/iss1/2

This NAALJ Business is brought to you for free and open access by the Caruso School of Law at Pepperdine Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Journal of the National Association of Administrative Law Judiciary by an authorized editor of Pepperdine Digital Commons. For more information, please contact Katrina.Gallardo@pepperdine.edu, anna.speth@pepperdine.edu, linhgavin.do@pepperdine.edu.
This issue of the Journal marks a number of substantial changes for the Association, not all of which are reported with pleasure. Ross Williams, Jr., Past President of NAHJO and Editor of the NAAHO Newsletter has been compelled by personal circumstances to suspend much of his activity on behalf of NAALJ. Until Ross is able to resume his duties, this Journal, which replaces the Newsletter, will be published from the Association’s new headquarters in New York.

After many years of shouldering the most demanding and least appreciated office in the Association, Betty D. Jacobson announced that she would not seek reelection as Treasurer. At the Annual Meeting in October, Judge Marshall Rosenberg of New York was elected to assume this unenviable post.

Finally, as most of us are aware by now, Bob Steinhilber, our immediate Past-President, resigned his position with the Florida Appeals Tribunal under protest and is no longer eligible for active membership in NAALJ. Bob has been elected an associate member of NAALJ and, we know, will continue in his dedication to Association affairs while undertaking a new career.

The adoption of the name NAALJ to replace NAAHO, which also occurred at the Annual Meeting, is a more welcome development, signifying, as I believe it does, a new dedication to the cause of professionalism in administrative adjudication. It is to this cause that our future efforts will be directed.