Pepperdine Law Review

Volume 11
Issue 5 Victims' Rights Symposium

8-15-1984

Victims' Rights Symposium: Table of Contents

Robert E. Palmer

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.pepperdine.edu/plr

Recommended Citation

Available at: https://digitalcommons.pepperdine.edu/plr/vol11/iss5/1

This Symposium is brought to you for free and open access by the School of Law at Pepperdine Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Pepperdine Law Review by an authorized editor of Pepperdine Digital Commons. For more information, please contact Katrina.Gallardo@pepperdine.edu, anna.speth@pepperdine.edu.
Victims' Rights Symposium

TABLE OF CONTENTS

1. Letters of Introduction .................................. xiii
2. The Victims' Movement: An Idea Whose Time Has Come
   Frank Carrington and George Nicholson
   I. Introduction ...................................... 1
   II. The Philosophy of Victims' Rights ............ 4
         A. The Movement Itself: Private Sector .... 5
         B. A National Impetus ....................... 6
   IV. A Cooperative Venture on Behalf of Crime
       Victims: The Instant Symposium .......... 10
   V. Conclusion ..................................... 12
3. Victims' Perceptions of Criminal Justice
   Deborah P. Kelly, Ph.D.
   Administrative Inconvenience .................... 17
   Structural Reform ................................ 18
   Why Listen to Victims? ......................... 20
4. The Crime Victim and the Criminal Justice System: Time for A Change
   Paul S. Hudson
   I. Introduction: The Problem ................... 23
   II. Policy Considerations in Evaluating Victim
       Reforms.......................................... 26
       A. Growing Problems in Criminal Justice Parallel Renewed Interest in Crime Victims... 26
       B. Rationales for Enhanced Victim Involvement and Reform ........................... 28
       C. Goals for Crime Victim Legal Reform ..... 34
          1. Make the criminal justice system work for victims .................................. 34
          2. Protection of public safety from crime should be established as a duty the government owes its citizens. For protection to be effectively implemented, legal incentives for crime prevention, and at least limited governmental liability for negligent acts causing harm to crime victims, should be mandated .......... 35

3. Victims should be given limited standing in the criminal justice process and accorded elementary due process rights .... 36

4. The crime victim should be made whole with monetary recovery and support services ................................. 37

5. “Streamlining” of the criminal justice system, while including legitimate victim rights and interests, is an important goal in itself and should be realized wherever feasible in victim reforms .......... 38

D. Arguments Against Victim Reforms ........ 39

E. Current Legal Barriers to Victim Rights Reform .......................... 41

III. Selected Victim Reform Measures .............. 45

A. Restitution—New Approaches to Reviving an Ancient Remedy ........ 45

B. Statutes that Prevent Enrichment of Criminals at the Expense of Crime Victims—“Son of Sam” Laws .................. 47

C. Victim Impact Statement Laws .................. 51

D. Victim/Witness Intimidation Laws ........ 53

E. Victim Notification Laws .................. 55

F. Some New Ideas for Victim Reform ........ 57

1. Speedy Trial Laws for Victims ........ 57

2. Review of Prosecutor's Decision Not to Prosecute .......................... 58

3. Legal Assistance for Crime Victims ...... 59

IV. Conclusion and Recommendations ............ 61

5. Constitutional Considerations: Government Responsibility and the Right Not to be a Victim

Richard L. Aynes

I. Introduction ............................. 63

II. Initial Considerations ...................... 65

III. The Victim's Interest: Sufficient for Standing ... 72

IV. The Government's Duty of Protection ........ 75

A. Allegiance, Protection, and Reciprocity .... 75

B. The Fourteenth Amendment's Requirement of Protection ................ 77
V. Physical Protection ........................................ 84
VI. Arrest .................................................. 93
VII. Investigation ........................................ 95
VIII. The Decision to Prosecute .......................... 97
IX. Release of Persons in State Custody ............... 107
X. Civil Liability and Sovereign Immunity ............ 110
XI. Conclusion ............................................ 115

6. Expanding the Role of the Victim in a Criminal Action: An Overview of Issues and Problems
Josephine Gittler
   I. Introduction ......................................... 117
   II. The Role of the Victim in a Criminal Proceeding:
The Historical Background ............................ 125
      A. Emergence of a System of Public
         Prosecution .................................... 125
      B. The Decline of Restitution ..................... 132
   III. Redefining the Role of the Victim in a Criminal
        Proceeding: A Reform In Search of a Rationale. 135
      A. The Victim's Interests ......................... 135
         1. The Victim's Interest in Restitution .... 136
         2. The Victim's Interest in Retribution .... 140
         3. Other Interests of the Victim ............ 142
         4. Representation of the Victim's Interests
            by the Public Prosecutor ................... 143
      B. The Systemic and Societal Interest in Reducing Victim Alienation from the Criminal Justice System ................................ 145
   IV. The Role of the Victim at Specific Stages of the Criminal Proceeding ................................ 149
      A. Initiation of Criminal Action .................. 150
         1. Private Prosecution .......................... 150
            a. The Private Prosecution and the Victim's Interests ............................ 152
            b. Public Prosecution and the Potential Defendant's Interests .................... 154
            c. Private Prosecution, the Interests of the State, and the Public Prosecutor's
               Charging Discretion .................... 157
         2. Modified Private Prosecution ................ 160
3. Notification of Victims Concerning Prosecutorial Charging Decisions ........ 163
B. Pre-Trial Stage: Guilty Plea Negotiations ........ 163
C. Trial Stage ........................................ 168
D. Dispositional Stage: Sentencing .................. 172
E. The Expansion of the Victim's Role and Characterization of the Victim as a Party ... 176
V. Role of the Crime Victim Under Other Legal Systems ........................................ 178
VI. Alternatives to the Criminal Action and Victim Input and Control ............... 181
VII. Conclusion ........................................ 182