Legislative Update: Revisions in the California Drunk Driving Law

During the course of the 1981-82 legislative session, the California legislature passed a number of amendments to the California drunk driving law. This update discusses these changes as they relate to a comment entitled Under the Influence of California's New Drunk Driving Law: Is the Drunk Driver's Presumption of Innocence on the Rocks?,<sup>1</sup> which appears in volume 10, issue 1 of the Pepperdine Law Review.

The minimum fines for a conviction of drunk driving have been changed. Minimum fines for a conviction of drunk driving have been increased from 375 to  $390^2$  except for a conviction of "felony drunk driving" where the defendant has two prior convictions for drunk driving within the past five years. In this instance the minimum fine has been increased from 1,000 to  $1,015.^3$

Changes have also been imposed in the requirements concerning treatment programs where one is convicted of drunk driving. Under the law as initially enacted, when a first time offender convicted of "misdemeanor drunk driving" was granted probation, the court could, as a condition of probation, require participation in a driver improvement program or an alcohol treatment program.<sup>4</sup> Under the new law this person must participate in an alcohol treatment program.<sup>5</sup> Additionally, under the original law, there was no requirement that a first-time felony offender participate in a treatment program as a condition of probation.<sup>6</sup> Under the new law, this person must participate in an alcohol treatment program.<sup>7</sup>

4. Act of Feb. 18, 1982, ch. 53, § 30, 1982 Cal. Legis. Serv. 278-79 (West) (amending CAL. VEH. CODE § 23161(b)).

5. Act of Sept. 24, 1982, ch. 1339, § 16, 1982 Cal. Legis. Serv. 7166-67 (West) (amending CAL. VEH. CODE § 23161(2)(b)).

Finally, the law concerning punishment of a two-time offender has been changed. Under the original law, a person convicted of "felony drunk driving" who had one prior drunk driving conviction within five years could receive a three-year restriction on his driving privileges if granted probation.<sup>8</sup> The new law provides for a one year suspension followed by a two year license restriction.<sup>9</sup>

** The 48 hour jail sentence and the 90 day restricted license are alternate mandatory sentences if probation is granted for an initial misdemeanor conviction. *** An "alcohol-related reckless driving conviction" can only affect the first misdemeanor drunk driving conviction (within five years) and will never put the defendant in the three convictions category.
